

Idea One:

- The protagonist will be in the foreground and building (representing London) will be in the background
- The protagonist will be facing sideways (unlike the picture shown)
- The protagonist will be holding a camera on a tripod like an umbrella, with an umbrella in the other hand being held like a walking stick in front of them OR they will be using the umbrella normally and be looking through the camera (on the tripod) which is in front of them on the floor
- Low angle shot (like the picture)
- Saturated colours (unlike the picture) as it's a musical
- Title, Cast, Director
